FRUITLAND HAS NUMBER DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

School Now in Midst of Best Session
In Its Long and Useful Career.
Special Services.

(Special to The Hustler.)

Fruitland, Nov. 8.—Two months and more have passed and the school is in the midst of one of the best sessions in its useful history. The student body is doing excellent work and the teachers are realizing some of their ideals in Christian education.

As one of the teachers expressed it "everything good that comes to Hendersonville, comes out of Fruitland." Prof. Collier Cobb of the faculty of the State University at Chapel Hill, came out for a visit Friday afternoon accompanied by Rev. George F. Wright, who always has the school at heart and wishes to bring it before his friends.

Rev. William E. Barker of Brevard was at the school for a few days this week and delivered several interesting addresses and sermons. It was indeed a blessing to have this Christian scholar to visit the institution.

A few days since Rev. Charles S. Blackburn of Greens, S. C., came with his two boys, William Maxwell and George Stebbins, who are now students here. Rev. Mr. Blackburn is a graduate of Princeton University, a former missionary to Prussia, and his visit was genuinely appreciated by faculty and students. He spoke to the student body while here. Mr. Blackburn will spend the winter at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

Some very interesting lectures were delivered recently by Dr. Frank Moody Purser of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board of Richmond, Va., who spent two days at the school.

A special series of services is being held at the Baptist church this week. The pastor, Rev. C. E. Puett, is being aided in the work by Rev. A. I. Justice of Hendersonville. The life of the school and the community is being greatly benefitted already and quite a number have decided for the Christian life.

A spirit of sadness came over the life of the school and community when the news of the passing away of the father of the principal came Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Melton left that afternoon for his home at Elkin, to attend the funeral services. He returned to the school Saturday.

SHOWS APPRECIATION OF PRESIDING ELDER WOOD.

Whereas, Rev. C. A. Wood, will be removed by the time limit of our Church, having been presiding elder of Asheville district, four years.

We the members of the Hendersonville Quarterly Conference wish to express our appreciation of his faithful and efficient service, and to thank him for his impartial and wise administration of the affairs of the Church, and we assure him that our best wishes and prayers will follow him, wherever the approaching annual conference may appoint him.

REV. W. F. WOMBLE.
F. E. DUFFEE.

FOUR KILLED IN RAILROAD WRECK.

Chester A. Sallenger, railway conductor, of Raleigh, and three negro passengers were killed almost within sight of the railway station at Zebulon Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock when the two cars of Norfolk Southern east bound passenger train No. 17, split a switch and turned over. The negroes killed are William Anderson, tobacco farmer, of Zebulon section; Johnnie Hartsfield, of Bunn, and Gwendolyn Peace, of Raleigh, a Greenville school girl.

Few passengers escaped without a scar or painful jolt.

VIRGINIA METHOD CURING MEAT.

We kill the hogs as early in the morning as possible, allowing them to hang on the pole all day so as to get thoroughly cold to the bone, as they will be chilled on the following morning, when we cut them up and salt down.

We also do the cutting out early in the morning, so as to give the women folks a chance to get at their work as soon as possible with the lard, etc., as this is quite a job where one kills 10 to 15 hogs, averaging about 250 pounds each.

After the work of cutting out is completed, we sprinkle the hams and shoulders lightly with saltpetre, and rub in well. Some folks object to saltpetre, but we think a small amount of it is not harmful. Then we put on the salt and also rub in, then pack the meat in a box closely.

See that the bottom of the box is first covered with salt, putting the hams at the bottom and the shoulders next. After a layer of meat is put down, cover over lightly each piece with salt before putting down another layer.

If the meat is large, don't be afraid of putting on too much salt, as the more salt you have on it, the better it will keep when hung up for smoking. And after. Just so the meat is well covered with salt is all that is necessary. Let it remain in salt six or eight weeks, according to size. It is then ready to be prepared for smoking.

First we wash it nicely in a tub of hot water, but not boiling, just hot enough so you can bear your hand in it; using a rough, heavy rag to take off all of the old salt, and also mold, which is often on it. When the water becomes too cool and greasy, throw it out and get a fresh supply.

As soon as a piece is washed, before allowing to dry, sprinkle lightly with borax, which has a tendency to keep it from getting "skippy." Then cover with all the black pepper that will adhere and hang up quite high for smoking. A good many claim that borax will injure it to a certain extent, but we find that just a little will do no harm but instead, be of great benefit.

Always allow the meat to drip 24 hours before smoking is commenced. See that it is smoked before warm weather sets in, as it is very likely to get overheated from the warmth of the fire and weather together, which often causes it to spoil, or at least may give it a disagreeable taste.

We also use for smoking purposes wet, rotten oak wood, which we find is decidedly the best. This smokes freely, and does not burn off rapidly or make a hot fire, which should always be avoided if one desires good, sweet cured meat. Do not allow a blazing fire under it, but always keep it well smothered. You need not be afraid of smoking too much. We always smoke until the meat becomes a dark brownish color. The bacon will then have a fine flavor.

We never take it down and sew up in small bags as is often practiced by others, but let it remain in the position where smoked, getting down a piece when needed.—Wm. Hart Harrison, Va., in Farm Life.

CUPID IS ENLISTED TO PUT AN END TO WARS.

There will be no more wars, or at least no more wars between nations. The Social Revolutionists have promised to see to it. They have figured out just how to prevent the recurrence of such regrettable incidents as the current row in Europe, and they have issued a careful explanation of the proposed methods. Like every other great idea, it is so simple that they are wondering why no one else ever thought of it.

Cupid gives the answer. Cupid is to outfit crusty Mars so cleverly that the bearded old rascal never can start any more mischief. He will work through a series of international marriages of which the first will take place next week in International house, 125 West 21st street New York, when the bridegroom, of an old American family, will marry a Russian Jewess, Miss Hannah Olsher.

Clifford Davidson the bridegroom to be, explained it all. "My international marriage will signalize the accomplishment of my life ambition, to help establish international peace," he said. "I shall be married under the new code of anti-war and internationalism on November 11. It is a marriage having for its object the spread of the grand, holy idea of internationalism, which signifies the end of and extremely contemptible, idiotic and preposterous slaughter of millions of beings made in the image of God."

Bouck White, who is to perform the ceremony added that as many international marriages as possible will be solemnized at International House, and "the promotion of such marriages in all parts of the earth will proceed actively."

"Eventually," he said, "all racial distinctions will be wiped out and we will have a United States of Earth instead of hordes of low-lives eternally thirsting for each other's blood."

International songs and an international buffet luncheon will be served at the international wedding.

It was made clear by the Social Revolutionists that they hope only to stop international conflicts by the marriages between English sportsmen and German hausfraus, Cossack beaux and Bulgarian belles, Spanish senoritas and Swedish fishermen. Civil war, domestic strife—that is another problem.

As the poet wrote, in vers libre—
"Here comes the bride!
That's the grandest battle song of all."

The pupils in a school were asked to write original compositions on "King." The prize was carried off by a bright youth, who perpetuated the following, says Classmate:

"The most powerful king on earth is Work-king; the laziest, Shir-king; a very offensive king, Smo-king; the wittiest, Jo-king; the leanest, Think-king; the thirstiest, Drin-king; the slyest, Win-king; the most garrulous, Tal-king."

MUST REVISE COST OF NEW SCOUT CRUISERS.

Authority from Congress to raise the cost limit may have to be sought by the navy department before it can award contracts for construction of the four 35-knot scout cruisers in the 1917 building program. Bids for the vessels were opened with the result that only one bidder, the Seattle Construction and Dry Dock company, offered a direct proposal. This company bid within the limit of $5,000,000 for hull and machinery but it proposed to construct only one boat.

Two other bidders, the Union Iron Works, of San Francisco, and the Fore River company, of Quincy, Mass., submitted proposals based on a sliding scale arrangement which would take into account possible variations of material and labor prices. The New York Shipbuilding company gave notice that it could not get its estimates within the limit of cost.

It was indicated that the department might delay awarding contracts until Congress could be asked to increase the limit of cost 10 per cent or more. To undertake construction of the cruisers in government yards, it was said would mean even greater delay while the yards were being equipped.

Bids for 27 coast submarines and two 300-ton type fleet submersibles also were received, is practically assured that all of these vessels can be built by private contract. Included among the offers was that of Schneider and company, of Paris and New York, which presented three designs similar to those upon which submersibles for the French and other European governments have been built. The company proposed to authorize the United States to construct at its own yards as many boats on these designs as it might desire on a royalty basis.

W. O. W. DISTRICT MEETING.

The Woodmen of the World for Western North Carolina met Tuesday in Odd Fellows hall at Waynesville, with 17 camps represented by delegates which numbered about 40, says the Carolina Mountaineer.

Reports were very encouraging and show the order is growing rapidly. The delegates were entertained at the Kenmore hotel. State Manager E. B. Lewis of Kinston was present and made an interesting address on the order and fraternal insurance.

This organization is known as the Log Rollers Association of Western North Carolina and meets twice a year. The next meeting will be held next April at Asheville.

Sovereign T. H. Pinner of Arden was elected president, Frank Tiddy of Asheville, vice-president and L. C. Pace of Saluda, secretary and treasurer.

A public meeting was held at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium, presided over by Rev. A. V. Joyner. Music was provided by a colored string band.

It was regretted that General E. B. Lewis had to leave on the afternoon train but good speeches were made by Mr. G. L. Herman of Asheville, Head Consul V. E. Grant of Hendersonville, District Deputy McFee of Asheville and Prof. A. F. Harrison. Col. W. J. Hannah made the address of welcome.

NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM HENDERSONVILLE, N. C.

(Special to The Hustler.)
Hendersonville, Route 1, Nov. 8.—Rev. Mr. Pratt preached a very interesting sermon at Ebenezer last Sunday, regular preaching day.

Mrs. Atkins of French Broad River, is spending some time here with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Justice.

Mr. and Mrs. King Gilbert of Point Lookout, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting relatives here.

Miss Cora Lamb and two brothers, Hal and Hix Lamb, attended the corn shucking Friday at J. A. Marshall's near Reno Hill.

Mrs. Newman recently returned home from South Carolina where she has been visiting relatives. Jesse Allen and Miss Laura Williams, both of this place were happily married Sunday at the home of the groom's father, in the Dana section. Miss Williams has made her home at Rev. Mr. Pratt's for some time. Their many friends wish them a long happy life.

THREE CORNERED REAL ESTATE DEAL CLOSED.

A three-cornered real estate trade, involving the transfer of three pieces of property in three different counties, was closed yesterday. Mrs. M. D. Elliott, of Asheville, has purchased the O. E. Blythe farm in Mills River town, ship, Henderson county; Q. Guyon, of Greenville, has purchased the Bon Air, on Asheland avenue, and O. E. Blythe has purchased Greenville property owned by Mr. Guyon. The various considerations are not named in the deeds.—Asheville Citizen.

RECOMMENDS TANLAC TO ALL WHO SUFFER

C. C. Broughton, Brother to One of North Carolina's Sons, Tells
Why He's for It.

Few sons of this grand State have won greater distinction for themselves and North Carolina than Dr. Len G. Broughton, Baptist minister of international reputation. And not all men of Troy, N. C., are held in higher esteem than Attorney C. C. Broughton, brother to the famed Rev. Broughton. Then, when Attorney Broughton says: "I feel altogether a different man since taking Tanlac and heartily recommend it to all my friends and to those who suffer as I was, for it is a great tonic," there can be no doubt as to the really wonderful reconstructive powers of Tanlac.

"Since taking Tanlac," the popular lawyer continued, "indigestion has left me, sleep is sweet and good—I can sleep like a dead man now—and my appetite is out of sight. I will continue to take Tanlac for, to my mind, there is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by its helpful work."

"Tanlac begins its action by stimulating digestive organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole body. In other words, it relieves troubles by removing the cause. Tanlac, to my mind, is a powerful reconstructive tonic and contains certain ingredients which purify the blood and renovate the whole system. And next it enables the stomach to thoroughly digest food, allowing the assimilable products to be converted into blood, bone and muscle. By increasing the power of endurance it enables those who use Tanlac to better encounter fatigue, exposure and overwork."

Tanlac is sold in Hendersonville only at Hunter's Pharmacy.

STRENGTH OF ALLIES IS CONSTANTLY GROWING.

During the course of an interview with the Associated correspondent Major F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the London war office, was asked what he thought of Field Marshal von Hindenburg's statement that the entente allies could not break through the western front in thirty years. General Maurice replied:

"Our recent offensive was not designed to break through. Its purpose was to relieve the pressure on Verdun and kill as many Germans as possible. I will not undertake to say whether it will take thirty years to get the Germans out of France, but the allied strength constantly is growing and the German strength constantly is declining. When the weather permits its resumption, the results will be greater than ever. It is no doubt true that the Germans in recent fights have been short on ammunition. During the winter with its short days, limiting the use of our artillery they will be able to replenish their stores, but despite the bad weather, we have no intention of letting up on them."

"Our offensive will continue through the winter when conditions are at all favorable."

"From documents recently found on prisoners there is no question but that there is a great deterioration in the enemy's morale and material, although they have been able to maintain the number of their divisions. This has been accomplished by withdrawing regiments from old divisions to form new ones."

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE WHAT COAL IT NEEDS.

The United States government can compel the railroads of the country to move coal for its department—no matter what other uses the railroads might think they have for coal cars. The United States, likewise, is prepared to enforce its power in this direction unless the railroad companies and the coal contractors of the departments get busy and supply the coal needed.

Further than this, the government is prepared to take entire charge of all coal that is shipped for its use from the time it is placed on the cars until it arrives in Washington.

Likewise, it is prepared to secure an immediate delivery of all the coal it wants at any time it wants it, and to supervise its shipment and store it wherever it can be conveniently stored.

These are the developments of the day in the coal situation, and are due to the work of the committee of chief clerks of the various departments who have been working under the direction of Chief Clerk Wilmett, of the treasury department.

The discovery of a law which makes possible for the government to be placed in absolute control of the situation was due to the investigation of Mr. Wilmett and his associates. The navy department actually supplied the law.

WILL USE 3,000 TONS OF PRINT PAPER IN 1917.

Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman has prepared an estimate which shows 3,000 tons of print paper will be used by North Carolina daily and weekly newspapers in 1917. The amount is based on the last reports on circulation filed in this office by these newspapers.

This amount at the present advanced prices will cost the publishers $321,000. The estimate was made especially for a committee from the North Carolina Press Association that is looking into the matter of locating a paper mill in the State to supply this and other demands for paper. H. B. Varner of Lexington is chairman of this special committee.

MRS. MELTON'S LETTER

To Tired Worn-out Mothers

Jackson, Miss.—"I shall feel repaid for writing this letter if I can help any tired, worn-out mother or housekeeper to find health and strength as I have."

"I have a family of five, new, cook and do my housework and I become very much run-down in health. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and now I am well and strong and my old time energy has been restored. Vinol has no superior as a tonic for worn-out, run-down, tired mothers or housekeepers."
